What is Angular?

Angular is an open source, client-side framework that extends HTML using JavaScript. It uses the MVC (model-view-controller) approach to design. Angular is designed for building single page applications (SPA).

single web page that dynamically updates content based on user interaction with it

Deep Breath!